| Get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record | - You can ask to see or get an electronic or paper copy of your medical record and other health information we have about you. Ask us how to do this.
- We will provide a copy or a summary of your health information, usually within 30 days of your request. We may charge a reasonable, cost-based fee. In some limited circumstances, we may say “no” to your request, and you can ask the denial to be reviewed. |
| Ask us to correct your medical record | - You can ask us to correct health information about you that you think is incorrect or incomplete. Ask us how to do this.
- We may say “no” to your request, but we’ll tell you why in writing within 60 days. |
| Request confidential communications | - You can ask us to contact you in a specific way (for example, home or office phone) or to send mail to a different address.
- We will say “yes” to all reasonable requests. |
| Get a list of those with whom we’ve shared information | - You can ask for a list (accounting) of the times we’ve shared your health information for six years prior to the date you ask, who we shared it with, and why.
- Except as otherwise required by applicable rules, we will include all the disclosures except for those about treatment, payment, and health care operations, and certain other disclosures (such as any you asked us to make). We’ll provide one accounting a year for free but will charge a reasonable, cost-based fee if you ask for another one within 12 months. |
| Get a copy of this privacy notice | - You can ask for a paper copy of this notice at any time, even if you have agreed to receive the notice electronically. We will provide you with a paper copy promptly. |
| Choose someone to act for you | - If you have given someone medical power of attorney or if someone is your legal guardian, that person can exercise your rights and make choices about your health information.
- We will take reasonable measures if needed to confirm that the person has this authority and can act for you before we take any action. |
| File a complaint if you feel your rights are violated | - You can complain if you feel we have violated your rights by contacting us using the information on page 1.
- You can file a complaint with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Office for Civil Rights by sending a letter to 200 Independence Avenue, S.W., Washington, D.C. 20201, calling 1-877-696-6775, or visiting www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/complaints/.
- We will not retaliate against you for filing a complaint. |

Your Choices: For certain health information, you can tell us your choices about what we share. If you have a clear preference for how we share your information in the situations described below, talk to us. Tell us what you want us to do, and we will follow your instructions if feasible or required by law.

other parties get payment.

Example: We give information about you to your health insurance plan so it will pay for your services. We may give information to entities that help us collect payments.

How else can we use or share your health information? We are allowed or required to share your information in other ways – usually in ways that contribute to the public good, such as public health and research. We have to meet many conditions in the law before we can share your information for these purposes. For more information see: www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/noticepp.html.

Help with public health and safety issues

• We can share health information about you for certain situations such as:
  • Preventing disease
  • Helping with product recalls
  • Reporting adverse reactions to medications
  • Reporting suspected abuse, neglect, or domestic violence
  • Preventing or reducing a serious threat to anyone’s health or safety

Do research

• We can use or share your information for health research as permitted by law.

Comply with the law

• We will share information about you if state or federal laws require it, including with the Department of Health and Human Services if it wants to see that we’re complying with federal privacy law.

Respond to organ and tissue donation requests

• We can share health information about you with organ procurement organizations and tissue banks.

Work with a medical examiner or funeral director

• We can share health information with a coroner, medical examiner, or funeral director when an individual dies.

Address workers’ compensation, law enforcement, and other government requests

• We can use or share health information about you:
  • For workers’ compensation claims
  • For law enforcement purposes or with a law enforcement official
  • With health oversight agencies for activities authorized by law
  • For special government functions such as military, national security, and presidential protective services

Respond and participate in lawsuits and legal actions

• We can share health information about you in response to a court or administrative order, or in response to a subpoena. We can also share information when a protective order is in place.

Other uses and disclosures

• Business Associates - There are some health-related services provided through contracts with third parties, called "business associates," that may need the information to perform certain services on our behalf. Examples include software or technology vendors we may utilize to provide technical support, attorneys providing legal services to us, accountants, consultants, billing and collection companies, and others. When such a service is contracted, we may share your protected health information with such business associates and may allow our business associates to create, receive, maintain or transmit your information on our behalf in order for the business associate to provide services to us, or for the proper management and administration of the business associate. Business associates must protect any health information they receive from, or create and maintain on our behalf. In addition, business associates may re-disclose your health information for their own proper management and administration, to fulfill their legal responsibilities, and to business associates that are subcontractors in order for the subcontractors to provide services to the business associate. The subcontractors will be subject to the same restrictions and conditions that apply to the business associate. Whenever such an arrangement involves the use or disclosure of your information to our business associate, we will have a written contract with our business associate that contains terms designed to protect the privacy of your information.
  • De-identified information - We may use or disclose your health information to create de-identified information or limited data sets, and may use and disclose such information as permitted by law.
  • Inmates - If you are an inmate of a correctional institution or under the custody of a law enforcement official, we may release information about you to the correctional institution or law enforcement official as permitted by applicable laws and rules.

Our Responsibilities

• We are required to maintain the privacy and security of your protected health information.
  • While we take privacy and security very seriously, sometimes things go wrong. We will let you know promptly if a breach occurs that may have compromised the privacy or security of your information.
  • We must follow the duties and privacy practices described in this notice and give you a copy of it.
  • We will not use or share your information other than as described here unless you tell us we can in writing. If you tell us we can, you may change your mind at any time. Let us know in writing if you change your mind.

For more information see: www.hhs.gov/ocr/privacy/hipaa/understanding/consumers/noticepp.html.

Changes to the Terms of This Notice

We can change the terms of this notice, and the changes will apply to all information we have about you. The new notice will be available upon request, in our office, and on our web site.

Other State and Federal Laws

We may ask you for consent to share certain medical information. This consent may be required by state law for some disclosures and allows us to be certain that we can share your medical information for all of the reasons explained in this notice. We may also ask for your consent to share certain sensitive information that may have extra protection under state or federal laws. For more information on the laws of your particular state, please see Exhibit A. Please note that state laws and regulations are subject to change. We will follow applicable law if it differs from the exhibit.

2. Medicaid. For Medicaid recipients, we will disclose information pertaining to your treatment (including billing statements and itemized bills) only to:
   a. the Medicaid Fiscal Agent;
   b. the Social Security Administration;
   c. the Alabama Vocational Rehabilitation Agency;
   d. the Alabama Medicaid Agency;
   e. insurance companies requesting information about a Medicaid claim filed by the provider, an insurance application, payment of life insurance benefits, or payment of a grant or loan; or
   f. other providers who need the information for treatment of a patient.

Arkansas 1. Disclosure. Option Care may disclose your records to:
   a. You or as you direct;
   b. a practitioner or pharmacist when, in the pharmacist’s professional judgment, release is necessary to protect the patient’s health and well-being; and
   c. other persons or governmental agencies authorized by law to receive confidential information.

California 1. Disclosure. Unless authorized by you, Option Care will not disclose your records to anyone other than you or your authorized representative, except your information may be disclosed as follows:
   a. the information may be disclosed to providers of health care, health care service plans, contractors, or other health care professionals or facilities for purposes of diagnosis or treatment. This includes, in an emergency situation, the communication of patient information by radio transmission or other means between emergency medical personnel at the scene of an emergency, or in an emergency medical transport vehicle, emergency medical personnel at a licensed health facility;
   b. the information may be disclosed to an insurer, employer, health care service plan, hospital service plan, employee benefit plan, governmental authority, contractor, or any other person or entity responsible for paying for health care services rendered to you, to the extent necessary to allow responsibility for payment to be determined and payment to be made. If you are, by reason of a comatose or other disabling medical condition, unable to consent to the disclosure of medical information and no other arrangements have been made to pay for the health care services being rendered to you, the information may be disclosed to a governmental authority to the extent necessary to determine your eligibility for, and to obtain, payment under a governmental program for health care services provided to you. The information may also be disclosed to another provider of health care or health care service plan as necessary to assist the other provider or health care service plan in obtaining payment for health care services rendered by that provider of health care or health care service plan to you;
   c. the information may be disclosed to a person or entity that prohibits billing, claims management, medical data processing, or other administrative services for providers of health care or health care service plans or for any of the persons or entities specified in paragraph (b); however, information so disclosed shall not be further disclosed by the recipient in a way that would violate California law;
   d. the information may be disclosed to organized committees and agents of professional societies or of medical staffs of licensed hospitals, licensed health care service plans, professional standards review organizations, independent medical review organizations and peer review organizations established by Congress, contractors, or persons or organizations insuring, responsible for, or defending professional liability that a provider may incur, if the committees, agents, health care service plans, organizations, reviewers, contractors, or persons are engaged in reviewing the competence or qualifications of health care professionals or in reviewing health care services with respect to medical necessity, level of care, quality of care, or justification of charges;
   e. a provider of health care or health care service plan that has created medical information as a result of employment-related health care services to an employee covered at the specific prior written request and expense of the employer may disclose to the employee’s employer that part of the information that:
      i. is relevant in a lawsuit, arbitration, grievance, or other claim or challenge to which the employee and the employee’s employer, or parties to the action or claim to which the patient has placed in issue his or her medical history, mental or physical condition, or treatment, provided that information may only be used or disclosed in connection with that proceeding;
      ii. describes functional limitations of the patient that may entitle the patient to leave from work for medical reasons or limit the patient’s fitness to perform his or her present employment, provided that no statement of medical cause is included in the information disclosed;
   f. unless the provider of health care or health care service plan is notified in writing of an agreement by the sponsor, insurer, or administrator of a group or individual or a person or entity unaffiliated with the sponsor or health care service plan to receive information collected on or received by the provider of health care or health care service plan at the expense of the sponsor or insurer, or administrator of the group or individual or group or individual or uninsured plan or policy that the patient seeks coverage by or benefits from; or
   g. the information may be disclosed to a governmental authority or a person or entity primarily engaged in reviewing the competence or qualifications of health care professionals or in reviewing health care services with respect to medical necessity, level of care, quality of care, or qualification of the providers of health care or health care service plans.
